

ABSTRACT

This patent pertains to starch coatings containing starch succinates for reduced fat fried foods with acceptable taste, texture and appearance. The 5 starches of this invention are applied to the food substrate before frying and act as a barrier to the absorption of the frying media (oil).

10